

Treasured Sunrise Goat Mineral

Developed specifically for our personal dairy herd several years ago, we've been extremely pleased with the results! Contains high levels of crucial minerals needed for the overall health of all breeds of goats to meet the deficiencies found in our area.

- 1.25:1 Calcium to Phosphorus ratio to supplement alfalfa diets. Goats fed solely pasture grass or grass hay may need supplemental Calcium.
- Contains chelated minerals for improved absorption and utilization.
- Diamond V Yeast Culture.
- This mix does not contain Ammonium Chloride - a product unsafe for bred or lactating does.
- Labeled for lactating goats with a target intake of 1 oz per head per day. We do offer free choice to all our goats of all ages, including young kids and bucks. Consumption levels will vary depending on the mineral status of the goat. Must be kept dry and goats will consume more if fresh.
- Kelp may be added to the mineral to encourage consumption. We've also had excellent results adding the mineral to our lactating doe's grain ration at the rate of 0.5oz daily. Mineral should also be offered free choice and not limited.
- When feeding this mineral mix as recommended we rarely find our goats (with the exception of the bucks) need additional mineral supplements. Giving Bo-Se, Copper bolus, Multimin 90, or any other high level of additional mineral when feeding this mix could result in mineral toxicity.
